2010 Red Burgundies

“The 2010s are absolutely classic in every respect and should provide for superb drinking in due time. More importantly, at least if you believe as I do that a burgundy’s duty first and foremost is to accurately reflect its origins, the 2010 vintage delivers this terroir attribute in spades. Two other attributes that I very much admire about the vintage is just how fresh and vibrant it is and as such the wines are, remarkably enough, already a pleasure to drink. Note however that I would not expect this enhanced drinkability to last because once the pinot baby fat begins to recede we will see the underlying structure more clearly. In sum, should you find attractively priced 2010s on the market, I wouldn’t hesitate to acquire them as the better wines will make for excellent cellar candidates.”

DOMAINE JEAN-MARC BOILLOT – POMMARD
2010 Volnay (Jean-Marc Boillot)	$ 65.00	$ 55.25
“Good red with ruby tones. High-pitched nose offers cassis, blueberry, violet, licorice and smoke. Supple, fully ripe Volnay villages, with blackberry, violet and chocolate flavors carrying well on the finish. (88-90/100)”
- Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar
2010 Beaune “Les Epenottes” (Jean-Marc Boillot).....	$ 85.00	$ 72.25
“Good bright red. Dark aromas of black cherry, currant, licorice, menthol and minerals. Excellent depth, with firm acidity giving a crunchy quality to the dark cherry and licorice flavors. Firm, dusty tannins give this premier cru a solid structural underpinning. (88-90/100)”
- Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar
2010 Volnay “Les Pitures” (Jean-Marc Boillot).....	$ 95.00	$ 80.75
“Good red-ruby. An initial note of reduction blew off to reveal reticent aromas of berries and mocha; like a coulis of strawberry and black raspberry. Has the density of texture of a coulis as well, boasting excellent concentration and chewiness. Broader and more generous than usual for this cuvee at this stage. Boillot recommends waiting five years but with this level of density this premier cru will probably give pleasure earlier than that. (90-93/100)”

BOUCHARD PÈRE & FILS – BEAUNE
2010 Beaune “Les Teurons” (Bouchard)	$ 80.00	$ 68.00
“This is restrained but beautifully complex with a discreet nose of red currant, blue pinot, plum and floral nuances. The earthy medium-bodied flavors are delicious and supple but retain a fine sense of precision and detail on the firm and moderately austere finish. While there is fine aromatic depth, the palate impression does not enjoy the same level of complexity though perhaps it will develop. 2018+ (90/100)”
- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com
2010 Volnay “Clos des Chênes” (Bouchard)	$ 98.00	$ 83.30
“Noticeable but not dominant wood influence fights a bit with the otherwise fresh, cool, airy and ripe raspberry liqueur, plum and floral aromas. The reserved and moderately austere medium weight flavors exude a fine minerality that continues onto the powerful, linear and lingering finish. This is also quite compact and not showing much today yet it’s clear that there is excellent underlying material and the balance should enable this to age exceptionally well. 2022+ (92/100)”

DOMAINE CAMUS-BRUCHON – SAVIGNY-LES-BEAUNE

2010 Beaune “Clos du Roi” (Camus-Bruchon) $ 70.00 $ 59.50
“An intensely floral nose of essence of red berry fruit plus a hint of menthol is followed by supple, round and relatively forward flavors that are also quite delicious and easy-to-like before terminating in a sappy finish that is not especially deep or long. While I would stop short of calling this overtly fruit-driven, it is more in that context than the rest of the wines in the range. 2016+ (87-90/100)”
- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com

CHANDON DE BRIAILLES – SAVIGNY-LES-BEAUNE

2010 Pernand-Vergelesses “Ile de Vergelesses” (Chandon de Briailles) $ 70.00 $ 59.50
“An intensely floral nose offers up notes of rose petal, violet and lavender that add elegance to the otherwise ripe and solidly complex blend of plum and wild red berry fruit scents. The refined, pure and strongly mineral-inflected flavors possess so much energy that they seem to vibrate in the mouth and this sense of tension makes for a wonderfully refreshing and sophisticated mouth feel. As if this wasn't enough there is also impeccable balance and a real sense of harmony. In sum, this mildly austere effort is a Zen-like wine that should age brilliantly. 2020+ (90-93/100)”
- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com

2010 Corton “Les Bressandes” (Chandon de Briailles) $ 145.00 $ 123.25
“Reduction impairs an evaluation of the nose but there is good verve to the relatively finely detailed but broad-shouldered flavors that ooze a noticeable minerality on the tension-filled finish. There appears to be excellent underlying material along with solid phenolic maturity of the structural components but this is very awkward today. Given the quality of the basic raw material here, as well as the outstanding track record of this wine, my range offers the benefit of the doubt. 2025+ (91-94/100)”

DOMAINE COMTE LAFON – MEURSAULT

2010 Volnay “Les Santenots de Milieu” (Comte Lafon) $ 225.00 $ 191.25

DOMAINE CONFURON-COTETIDOT – VOSNE-ROMANÉE

2010 Gevrey-Chambertin (Confuron-Cotetidot) $ 88.00 $ 74.80

2010 Gevrey-Chambertin “Petite Chapelle” (Confuron-Cotetidot) $ 150.00 $ 127.50
“A pretty and relatively high-toned nose of pure, cool and well-layered stone, red berries and a hint of underbrush where the latter can also be found on the mineral-inflected middle weight flavors that possess real verve on the tension-filled, dry and serious finish. As it always is, this is a firm wine of refinement and purity, indeed this displays Zen-like poise. 2022+ (90-93/100)”
- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com

2010 Gevrey-Chambertin “Lavaut-Saint-Jacques” (Confuron-Cotetidot) $ 165.00 $ 140.25
“Very mild reduction does not completely hide the otherwise pretty and notably cool red berry, floral and stone-inflected aromas that complement well the minerally, detailed, supple and impressively intense medium-bodied flavors that possess an obvious touch of the sauvage on the herbal, focused and strikingly long finish that is, at present anyway, overtly austere. This is a classic Lavaut with an abundance of underlying tension and very firm supporting tannins. Ample patience will be required. 2025+ (91-93/100)”
- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com

DOMAINE JOSEPH DROUHIN – BEAUNE

2010 Nuits-Saint-Georges (Joseph Drouhin) $ 85.00 $ 72.25

DOMAINE VINCENT GIRARDIN – MEURSAULT

2010 Volnay “Les Santenots” (Girardin) $ 110.00 $ 93.50
“Bright red. Lively aromas of black cherry and chocolate complicated by spices and flowers. Sweet dark fruit flavors are a bit reticent today and lacking in complexity but already convey lovely finesse of texture. Finishes with substantial dusty tannins. Very Santenots and not at all overripe. (91/100)”
- Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar

2010 Gevrey-Chambertin “Les Cazetiers” (Girardin) $ 145.00 $ 123.25
“Dark red. Sexy aromas of black raspberry, meat, animal fur and violet. Dense, saline and tight-grained, with lovely energy and finesse to the concentrated dark raspberry flavor. Finishes long and saline, with fine tannins. (90-93/100)”
- Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar

THIBAUT LIGER-BELAIR – NUITS-SAINT-GEORGES

2010 Charmes-Chambertin (Liger-Belair)..... $ 375.00 $ 318.75
“Good full medium red. Captivating nose offers wild dark raspberry, game, licorice and smoky minerality; a bit Chambertin-like. Fat, sweet and full yet light on its feet; in a distinctly opulent, broad style but sappy, saline and quite fresh. Really builds on the finish, which features sweet tannins and noteworthy flesh. (Liger-Belair did a labor-intensive berry-by-berry destemming for this wine, as he did with his Richebourg in 2010.) (91-94/100)
- Stephen Tanzer, International Wine Cellar

THIERRY MATROT – MEURSAULT

2010 Volnay “Les Santenots” (Matrot) $ 80.00 $ 68.00

MONGEARD-MUGNERET – VOSNE-ROMANÉE

2010 Grands Echezeaux (Mongear-Mugneret)..... $ 325.00 $ 276.25
“Moderate wood frames a wonderfully spicy nose of red and dark berry fruit that also displays lovely floral notes, in particular violet as well as an herbal hint. The wood is sufficiently strong to influence the texture of the very rich and overtly muscular broad-shouldered flavors that possess excellent mid-palate concentration and again, plenty of dry extract. The powerful and linear finish is not especially refined but this is very serious and the amount of stuffing is such that this should eventually integrate the oak treatment. 2025+ (92-94/100)”
- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com

THOMAS MOREY – CHASSAGNE-MONTRACHET

2010 Maranges “La Fussiere” (Thomas Morey) $ 40.00 $ 34.00
2010 Chassagne-Montrachet Rouge “Vieilles Vignes” (Thomas Morey) $ 45.00 $ 38.25
2010 Beaune “Les Greves” (Thomas Morey)..... $ 58.00 $ 49.30

LA POUSSE D’OR – VOLNAY

2010 Corton “Clos du Roi” (Pousse d’Or) $ 225.00 $ 191.25
“This is more animale in character with a somber if highly complex nose featuring dark berry fruit, stone, earth and underbrush nuances. There is an overt muscularity to the big-bodied, intense and robust flavors that possess a most admirable amount of structure-buffering dry extract that imparts a velvety texture to the borderline chewy and terrifically persistent finish. A classic Clos du Roi that is built for the long-term. 2025+ (94/100)”
- Allen Meadows, Burghound.com
